HEALTHCARE

You will want to provide healthcare for your family. You will want to budget for health insurance as well as doctor's visits and fees. Some suggestions are made below. Please remember all members of your family when making these choices.

Doctor (per person, per visit)

It will typically cost you $50 to see a doctor, even if you have health insurance. This can be more for specialists or if you do not have insurance.

Dentist(per person, per visit)

A dentist will be visited about twice a year. Dental insurance will cover an individual person for $150/year, which would also help cover emergency dental work. A dentist visit without dental insurance will cost about $50, but additional work may cost $50-$500 more. A normal person visits the dentist about twice a year.

Prescriptions (per person)

Medication that you must take. Medications can be as little as $10/month with health insurance and as much as $150/week without. Not everyone needs regular medication.

Medical Insurance (per person)

Medical insurance for a healthy, younger person, will cost about $100/month. This price can go up tremendously if you have a history of health problems. Having health insurance helps protect your family against emergencies which can bankrupt a family quickly. Typically, you will stay pay $50 each time you visit a doctor, but those visits could cost $100-$1000 without medical insurance.

Other Medical Expenses (per person)

It is always a good idea to save money for potential medical expenses and emergencies.
